

ROCK COUNTY FAIR WILL CLOSE TODAY DESPITE WEATHER

TWO DAYS ARE NECESSARY TO ALLOW MOVING OF MUCH OF STOCK TO MILWAU.
KEE FOR STATE FAIR.

AWARDING OF RIBBONS

Horses and Cattle Were Judged Yesterday and Other Ribbons Awarded Today.—Results of Races.

—Poor Attendance Today.

Evansville, Sept. 8.—Although the weather remained very disagreeable today with mist and fog broken by light showers remaining all morning, the fair management decided today that it would be impossible to hold the fair another day. Much of the live stock and a large number of the racing horses are entered in the Milwaukee fair next week and as this opens Tuesday it would be impossible to make the move in so short a time. Consequently it was planned this morning to close the fair this afternoon and to finish the program of races which include the Special Pace and the Farmers' race.

Crowd Poor Today.

This being the last day of the fair and the weather the worst of any of the days, the crowd this morning was very poor and was not materially bettered this afternoon. It was necessary to postpone the ball game until afternoon and the track was again worked to be in condition for the races.

One of the features of the morning was the Baby Contest in which there were twenty entries. It was an exceptionally fine collection of youngsters that were lined up in front of the grandstand shortly before eleven o'clock and the judges needed plenty of time to make their decisions.

Baby Show Winners.

In the beauty contest prizes were awarded to the mothers as follows:

Baby over one year: Mrs. F. C. Wondra, Evansville, 1st; Mrs. Robt. Spencer, Evansville, 2nd.

Baby under one year: Mrs. R. C. Turner, Evansville, 1st; Mrs. F. C. Wondra, Evansville, 2nd.

For the best decorated crib containing baby awards were made as follows:

Baby over one year: Mrs. Roy Gavery, Evansville, 1st; Mrs. Spencer, 2nd.

Baby under one year: Mrs. Hanne, 1st; Mrs. Gillispie, 2nd.

Special prizes for the best looking twins went to Mrs. F. C. Wondra. All the prizes in the Baby Contest went to Evansville parties.

Protest Over Race.

In the 2:20 race from W. owned by Archie Wentworth of Edgemoor, was protested on the ground that the animal had not been entered and was therefore not entitled to first place. The protest was allowed, giving first place to Babe Patchin, owned by J. J. Enders of Atter, Mich. The race, owned by E. Ray Lloyd of Janesville, was second and Kentucky Lady, owned by E. G. Dunlap of San Prairie, third.

No Game.

The baseball game between Albany and Beloit, which was to have been played today was not played because the Beloit club failed to appear. No reason was given by Beloit for not coming.

Farmers' Race.

In the first two of three heats in the farmers' race, Marble, an added entry, owner's name not given, won both first and the race. Mike owned by Hart Thompson of Evansville, took second money with two seconds in the two heats. Lucile Handsmith, owned by George Galt of Evansville, was third in both heats. Julia, owned by John Doty, was fourth in the first heat and fifth in the second. Lady Adair, Frank Frazer, Evansville, owner, was fifth in the first heat and fourth in the second.

Awards in Cattle.

The judging of the cattle exhibits in some cases brought some keen competition and in others the entries from one herd were large enough and good enough to sweep the entire number of ribbons. Prof. Geo. Hutton of the state university at Madison acted as judge both of the cattle and horses.

The list of winners and owners follows.

Winners of Ribbons.

CLASS 12—SHORT HORN.

Bull—Three years and over. B. B. Boynton, 1st.

Bull—Under one year. James Carroll, 1st.

Cow—Three years and over. James Carroll, 1st.

Heifer—One year and under two. James Carroll, 1st and 2nd.

CLASS 20—HERRFORDS.

Bull—Two years and under three. W. O. Douglas, 1st.

Bull—Under one year. J. C. Robinson, 1st and 2nd.

Cow—Three years and over. J. C. Robinson, 1st.

BLOODHOUNDS USED TO SOLVE MYSTERY OF MISSING CHILD

Madison Sheriff Believes Missing Girl Was Murdered and Drowned in Monona Bay.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Sept. 8.—Bloodhounds followed by Sheriff Andrew Brown and deputies worked today on the baffling kidnapping mystery surrounding the disappearance of seven-year-old Anna Leiberger.

The dogs took the scent from the Leiberger cottage, followed it through the marshes southwest of the city to the shore of Lake Monona Bay.

The trail passed within half a block of the home of George Proger, wealthy uncle of Mrs. Leiberger with whom she had broken.

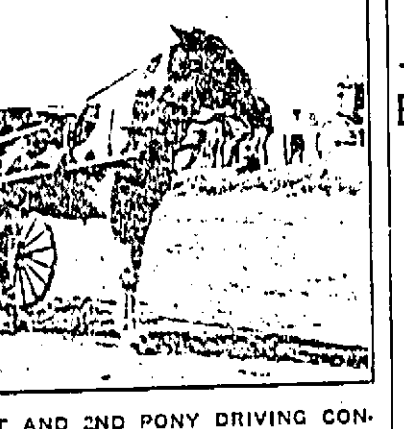

The bay will be dug. Sheriff Brown believes the girl was murdered and her body thrown into the lake.

OFFICIAL DAY NAMED BY A PROCLAMATION

Governor Sets Aside Wednesday, Sept. 13 as Wisconsin Day at State Fair.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 8.—In his official proclamation designating Wednesday, Sept. 13, as Wisconsin day at the state fair, Gov. McFarland says:

"The state fair is a great industrial, educational and recreational enterprise. As a public undertaking, marking the advent of each recurring autumn, it is the event of the year. It celebrates the bounty of nature, the skill of labor, the intelligence of industry, the marvels of invention, and the fruits of art. Maintained as it is by the state, every citizen has a direct financial, personal and patriotic interest in it. By displaying each year the finest products of the farm, garden, factory, mine and studio, it stimulates all who see them to even higher achievement. Exhibiting the methods of instruction in our various schools and colleges, it compels comparison among them and in turn contrasts each with the more practical knowledge, skill, discipline and culture derived from the vast unorganized university of every-day life. From the remotest corner of the commonwealth it summons the citizens of the state for a week of amusement, relaxation, instruction and social enjoyment."

The governor recommends that all the people of the state join as citizens and shareholders in the undertaking to make state fair week, and particularly Wisconsin day, a time of recreation, pleasure, and profitable observation of the industrial products and processes of Wisconsin.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER FROM SUB-TREASURY TO BE TRIED SOON

Trial of George W. Fitzgerald, Former Government Employee, To Come Up at Present Term of Federal Court in Chicago.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 8.—Chicagoans are wondering if the veil of mystery will be lifted from the $173,000 sub-treasury theft when George W. Fitzgerald is tried for the alleged embezzlement at the present term of the federal court.

Public opinion as to Fitzgerald's guilt or innocence is divided, as it has been ever since the finger of suspicion was pointed at him. Many persons firmly believe the accused man is the unfortunate victim of a great mistake. Others do not hesitate to declare their opinion that Fitzgerald is one of the smoothest rogues with which Uncle Sam's secret service men have ever had to deal.

The only point in the case concerning which there is not the slightest doubt is that a fortune in cash—officially stated to be $173,000—disappeared from within the steel cage and concrete walls of the sub-treasury as mysteriously as if the money had wings, literally as well as figuratively, and for nearly five long years its whereabouts has remained an absolute mystery.

The first intimation sub-treasury officials had of a shortage was on a Wednesday afternoon, in the summer of 1908, when Fitzgerald, who had been a government employee for seven years, walked from his cage over to the cashier's, F. C. Russell and told him he was short $173,000.

An examination of Fitzgerald's books showed that the shortage was not a matter of bookkeeping, but of actual loss. Further investigation, it is said, developed that by strange coincidence the balance retained by the assessor's office in his custody the night before was the exact amount of money missing. Inquiry at Washington showed that the money had not been shipped there by mistake.

Thomas I. Porter, chief of the United States secret service in Chicago, ascertained that three previous thefts had taken place. It is alleged, in Fitzgerald's case prior to this time. These losses were, respectively $500, $900 and $900.

Fitzgerald, when questioned, laid suspicion upon a party of workmen who had been employed about the sub-treasury the day previous. The money, Fitzgerald said, lay in stacks up on his desk in a dark corner of the cage and might easily have been reached from under the grating, so said that at least a dozen men had access to the cage.

The private life of every employee was investigated, among them Fitzgerald's. His manner of life was simple, his manner genial and he was popular among his associates.

He constantly asserted his innocence with an air of injured dignity which ultimately was effective in diverting suspicion to other quarters.

John E. Wilkie, chief of the United States secret service after a consultation with Secretary of the Treasury, Shaw and President Roosevelt took personal charge of the case. A widespread and systematic investigation covering the whole country followed, but without obtaining sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest.

Fitzgerald, however, lost sight of or a day. More than two years later the first arrest in the case was received by the announcement that Fitzgerald had been arrested and charged with the theft. It was said at the time that the secret service men had found that he was spending money liberally. He was reported to have bought a home for his family and to be in easy circumstances financially. Moreover, a report was circulated that a Chicago business man had confessed that Fitzgerald had offered him a liberal commission if he would pass some $1,000 bills for him.

However, the truth there may have been in these stories the fact of the matter is that the accused man was discharged almost immediately after his arrest and without trial. It was intimated that the officers had blundered in taking their man into custody before the time was ripe. Fitzgerald explained his alleged liberal expenditures at the time by saying that he had made considerable money by speculating in eggs.

Just when the public had about concluded that the matter had been dropped it was surprised to learn that Fitzgerald was again under arrest on the old charge. It developed that the grand jury had returned a new indictment upon evidence furnished by the secret service men.

The indictment was returned secretly a few days before the statute of limitations would have made Fitzgerald, guilty or innocent, safe from all prosecution.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS IN BEATTIE TRIAL ARE BEING GIVEN

Expect That Case Will be in the Jury's Hands by Six O'Clock This Evening.

Cheslerfield Courthouse, Va., Sept. 8.—Hoping to place the fate of Henry Clay Beattie in the hands of the jury before tonight, Judge Watson today convened court one hour early.

PRISON MADE TWINE FURTHER POSTPONED

With Much of Elaborate Machinery in Place at Waupun, Manufacture Is Still Delayed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 8.—Wisconsin prison-made twine is not a product of the immediate future. When the wheels of the elaborately equipped Waupun plant will begin to turn is a question clothed in indolence of the deepest kind.

This is the situation as gathered from interviews with President Graebner and Ralph E. Smith of the State Board of Control.

President Graebner said about three-fourths of the necessary machinery is in place, and that the board does not propose to present to purchase the rest. So many other important matters are pressing for early attention, he said, that the twine proposition may well wait. He would not concede that the plant would be in operation this year.

Mr. Smith's statement was to the same effect.

The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for completing the equipment of the plant, and $200,000 available Jan. 1, 1912, and $200,000 more available Jan. 1, 1913, for use as a revolving fund, in the operation of the twine factory. The latter is to be used by the board of control to purchase raw material and for carrying on the manufacture of the twine. The money coming from the sale of the twine is to be turned into the revolving fund, the credit of this fund shall exceed $100,000 the excess will be transferred to the state's general fund.

The board of control is empowered to fix the prices of the twine and to make the price of the twine, acting with the warden of the prison. The board also will supervise its sale and is instructed by the law to give preference in the sale of such products to citizens of the state.

DEADLY MUSHROOMS ARE ABUNDANT AND WARNING IS GIVEN

The Amanita Phalloides or Death Cup Found in Woods Near the City.

With the news from the east of numerous persons dying from eating poisonous mushrooms, a word of warning to the Janesville lovers of these delicacies is due. Horace McElroy, one of the authorities on the edible mushrooms of this vicinity brought to the Gazette office this morning a handsome specimen of the Amanita Phalloides, or Death Cup, one of the most deadly of all mushroom growths.

"This specimen was found in the woods near Janesville," said Mr. McElroy, "and is one of the most deadly of all mushroom growths. It takes its name from the death-like cup that it takes near the base. It also has a thin veil or fringe that hangs down from the top. It is in taste, but a small portion, if eaten, will cause death. It is not that mushroom-lovers should be warned to be careful as to what they pick and eat as there are many other poisonous specimens growing in profusion. This is a strange condition as sometimes for years they are not found, but this summer they appear to have flourished. No one should eat mushrooms picked in the woods or yards unless they are certain of their food value."

"This Death Cup is particularly peculiar. Its results do not come for eight to sixteen hours after eating and the sickness is similar to that of cholera. Excruciating pains, nausea, and other symptoms so common in that dread disease appear and it is impossible to give relief to the sufferer. Authorities tell of persons having been made sick merely by smelling of the plant."

"They are found in the woods, seldom in the open fields. Cattle will not touch them, being taught by instinct to avoid them, and while they are handsome to look at they should not even be handled as they are liable to exude poison into the pores of the hands. They are very common this year but usually very rare. Other mushrooms of less poisonous nature are also to be found in abundance this summer so it is best to be careful."

DAVENPORT PARTY ON VISIT TO THE CITY

Much Pleased With the City and its Many and Varied Advantages.

H. J. Foster, J. J. Hardy and J. M. Nebstetter, of Davenport, Iowa, spent today in Janesville and looked over the city in company with Secretary Lane of the Industrial and Commercial Club and some of the directors of that organization. They expressed themselves as much pleased with Janesville and its many advantages and their inspection of the city. The three gentlemen are all practicing chiropractors, who are making a tour of several Wisconsin and Illinois cities.

HAS COTTON PLANTS GROWING IN GARDEN

Two Plants, Grown From Seed by Dr. James Mills, Are Ready to Blossom.

Dr. James Mills of this city has in the garden at his home at the corner of East Milwaukee and East streets, two cotton plants, grown from seed which he planted this year. The pods of the plants are about ready to burst open and display their whiteness. The plants were grown from seed which was given Dr. Mills while attending the automobile show at Chicago last winter. While there he met a southern grower who gave him the seeds. The seeds were planted early in the spring and protected from the cold weather in the house. Later they were transplanted and are now about two feet and a half in height.

LINK AND PIN. OFFICIALS INSPECT WORK AT GRAVEL PIT

All are Pleased With Work in Progress There—New Lidgerwood Unloader Helps to Increase Output.

Several officials of the Northwestern road, including Trainmaster S. A. Morrison and Superintendent G. W. Daily of Chicago and a few from the local offices and yards spent some time at the new gravel pit north of the city yesterday in inspecting the work that is being carried on at that place.

Their special car was sidetracked at the pit during the noon hour and luncheon was served at a table. After lunch the party watched the steam shovel at work and noted the general run of operations and seemed pleased with the progress that is being made by the force which is employed there. It is only recently that the men could make a good showing, due to the fact that until the last of last week the digging done there was traced "Jack's" attention from the duty of guardian which was delegated to him, and forgetting his charges, he remained at the fair city until today and the young men whom he accompanied were compelled to return to this city unaided, last night.

Three travelling passenger agents representing as many large railway companies, were short visitors in this city today. They were: E. A. Friedberg, of the Great Northern; C. O. Bryant of the Grand Trunk system and Irvin Keller, representing the Missouri Pacific. W. Oran who holds a similar position with the Frisco Lines was calling on local railway officials last evening.

James Spohn, Jr. is taking a vacation of a few weeks and expects to spend some time in Wyoming and other parts of the far West.

Hugh Davey is off duty on account of sickness.

Engineer Cole reported for duty today after a short lay-off.

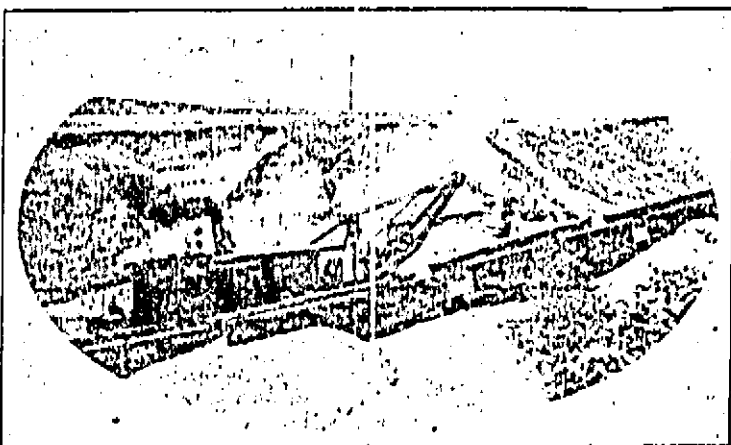

Engine 892 which was used on the special fair train between here and Jefferson was taken to Fond du Lac last night double heading train 351.

Night Machinist James Crowley is taking a short vacation.

Fireman Kaufmann is taking his regular run on 518 and Wilkins who was relieving him is on the board.

Engineer Starritt was running the switch engine last night in place of Engineer Townsend.

GATES AT PLEASANT STREET CROSSING TO BE REMOVED. The gates at the crossing of the St.

made from the base of the bank where the gravel and earth had fallen down during the time that the pit was closed. Now that this preliminary work has been completed and the shovel is placed in a good bank the digging can be done to much greater advantage.

Until the present week the cars were loaded lightly to enable the men at the other end of the line to unload the material easily with the old-style plow and cable that was being used until the new Lidgerwood unloader was received. As this unloader is now in use at the new line, unloading the gravel, the men at the pit are able to send the cars out with better loads thus enabling them to increase the output of the shovel.

In addition to the steam shovel crew of about six men and the five train crews regularly employed, in handling the material there are several men at work in repaving and shifting tracks and four others making minor repairs on cars. With everything running smoothly as it is at present the daily output has greatly increased and the men expect to continue at the same rate until cold weather sets in to stop the work of the shovel.

LOCAL MAN IS PRIZE GUESSESS WINS HOG AT JEFFERSON FAIR.

"Jack" Lee who went to the Jefferson fair yesterday as guardian to several young men from the local shop, was the champion guesseer at that place and is now the proud owner of a big 300-pound hog, which he won as the prize. This prize was offered to the person who would guess the nearest to the number of beans contained in a large bottle and Mr. Lee guessed within four of the correct number and was declared the winner. This unexpected good fortune distributed "Jack's" attention from the duty of guardian which was delegated to him, and forgetting his charges, he remained at the fair city until today and the young men whom he accompanied were compelled to return to this city unaided, last night.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, PASSENGER AND FREIGHT TRAFFIC INCREASING.

All available rolling stock in the local yards has been brought into service during the past few days handling the rush of traffic which has been carried on from here. During next week special trains for accommodation of the people who will be going to the fair at Monroe and other points on this line will keep the men here very busy attending to the regular work and the specials.

Engineer Mend and Fireman Kirkpatrick went out on train 155 at 5:30 this morning on the Mineral Point division with engine 126.

Engineer Konaugh and Fireman Higgins are on duty on a work train at the Janesville Beet Sugar factory where an extension of track is being built.

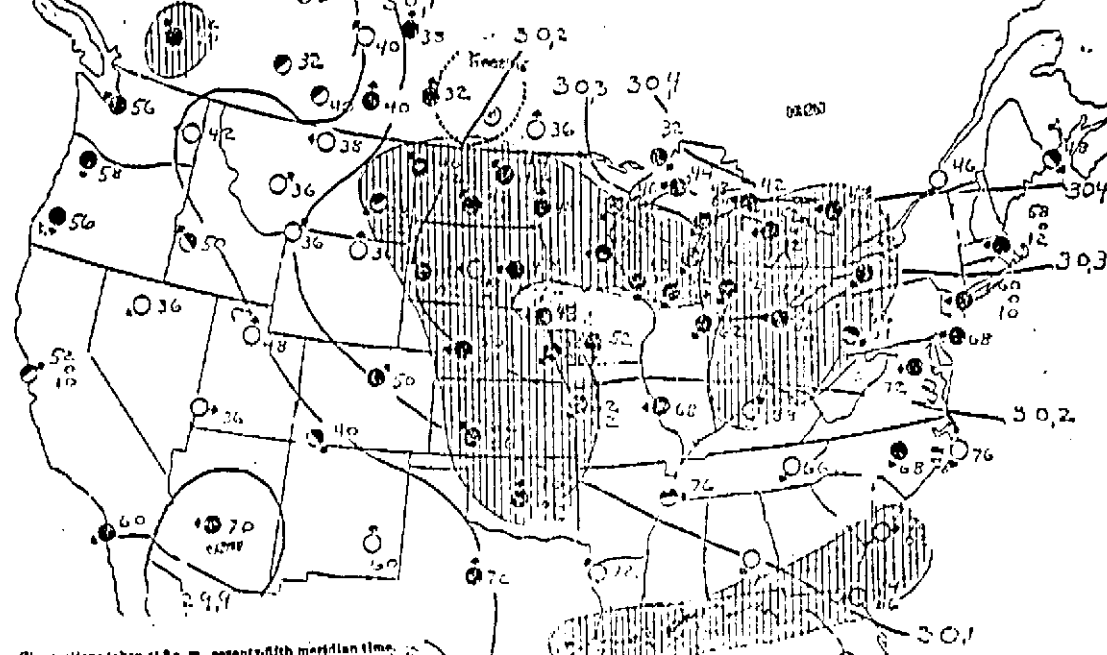

Machinist R. H. Whitmeyer has been added to the roundhouse force.

Engineer Knudsen and Fireman Plattville branch line last night for repairs at the local shops.

Engineer Condy and Fireman Snow brought an extra from Chicago arriving here at seven o'clock last night, with engine 1720.

SPORTING NOTES

TO PLAY FINALS FOR MORGAN CUP TUESDAY

Schaller and Brower Will Compete For the Handsome Trophy at the Golf Club.

As a result of the semi-finals for the Morgan trophy by the members of the St. Louis Golf Club, when Schaller defeated Hark and Brower defeated Grant, Schaller and Brower will play the final on Tuesday next. This is also the regular club day and doubtless will have a good attendance. Thursday was the card day, many availing themselves of the opportunity to play bridge for prizes. The club house has proved exceptionally attractive this summer and has been well patronized.

MOTORCYCLE ENDURANCE RUN NOT TO COME HERE

Proposed Interclub Run From Chicago to Stop at Deloit Instead of Janesville.

The mid-day stop of the interclub motorcycle endurance run out of Chicago, which was to have reached here tomorrow, will be at Deloit. The riders will arrive in the Deloit tomorrow and remain there one hour the same as was planned to do in Janesville. Strenuous efforts were made by Harry McFarland of this city to secure the run for Janesville and a promise was made that they would probably come here, but when the pathfinders started out they changed the route, due to the fact that the rules of the run are that it shall extend only two hundred miles and the trip to Janesville would mean that they would have to exceed this limit. Seven clubs are represented in this run.

COSTLY FISHING FOR JANESVILLE CAMPERS

Pay Fines of Twenty-five Dollars For Violating State Laws at Lake Koshkonong.

It cost two Janesville men in the neighborhood of $50 each aside from the annoyance and unpleasantness of being haled into court to have violated the state fishing laws while at Lake Koshkonong on a Labor Day outing. Deputy Game Warden Willis Mason was the strong arm of the law who caught the local violators and took them before the Jefferson Justice where a fine of $25 and costs was imposed. It appears that for some time past there has been complaint at the state game warden's office of violations of the fishing law by campers at Lake Koshkonong. The campers who place their poles out in the lake, leave them for hours sticking in the mud out in the bays and then row out and secure a rich harvest of fish. It proved much easier than sitting for hours waiting for a nibble and the fish seemed to bite as well at night as during the day, making it possible for a fresh caught fish for the breakfast table. Twice Mr. Mason, acting under instructions of the state warden, notified the campers of the violation of the law and on his last trip he found that the warnings had not been heeded and arrested the Janesville party who were spending the holidays with their families at the lake. One of the victims is office superintendent of a large factory, the other the factory superintendent and both went to Jefferson and paid their fines. A third man was also caught and he likewise increased the fish and game fund of the state with some spare cash.

Judge Not. Can a being who is not wholly without sin give thoughts and admonition to others? Test your own heart? What are you yourself? See, my hands are rough with work—I have not merely raised them in prayer.—Auerbach.

EDGERTON MERCHANT BECOMES BANKRUPT

T. A. Perry, in Business for Over Forty Years in Edgerton, Files Petition in Bankruptcy—Other News.

Edgerton, Sept. 8.—T. A. Perry, for the past forty-two years engaged in the general merchandise business, in fact the oldest merchant in Edgerton, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, a petition in bankruptcy having been filed in the United States circuit court in Madison. A receiver will be appointed in a few days. When the business was first instituted the firm was known as Mahbitt & Perry. Some years thereafter C. P. Mahbitt withdrew and engaged in the leaf tobacco business. Next, Geo. W. Doty became interested in the Perry stock and some years thereafter disposed of his interest to Perry, Doty entering the banking business, being one of the prime movers and instigators of the First National bank of which he still is president. Losses sustained years ago in a mercenary venture seriously crippled Mr. Perry from which he never fully recovered. The stock of goods is estimated at over $7,000 and the liabilities will considerably exceed that amount and only a portion of the amount is secured.

FORECAST IS GIVEN FOR COMING WEEKS

Foster's Weather Bureau Makes Predictions of Hurricane Which Will Originate About Sept. 20th.

(Copyrighted by W. T. Foster.)

Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent Sept. 9 to 13, warm wave 8 to 12, cool wave 11 to 15. This is expected to cause a great rise in temperatures with storm forces of about medium intensity. Hula may be expected in the Missouri, Arkansas, upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Dry in the Atlantic and Gulf states.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about Sept. 14, cross Pacific slope by close of 15, great central valleys 16-18, eastern sections 19. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about Sept. 14, great central valleys 16, eastern sections 18. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about Sept. 17, great central valleys 19, eastern sections 27.

The five days, of which the disturbance dates will be central day, will average cooler than usual with strong probabilities of frosts in northern and middle latitudes about two days before the central day. These frost dates will be near Sept. 12 in west and 14 in central valleys, 15 in eastern sections. About, or one day preceding the frosts, rains are expected in many sections, particularly in the Missouri, Arkansas, upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the lower lakes.

Severe local storms are probable not far from Sept. 17 and on Sept. 20 a tropical hurricane will organize in southern part of the north Atlantic. That hurricane will develop a cold wave north of Saskatchewan. These hurricanes are not only important for themselves but doubly important for the reason that they cause our cold waves. The bureau has not had time to fully work out the hurricane problem, it can be forecasted quite correctly as to the dates of their development east of the Caribbean sea but their progress is comparatively slow and they move in a long curve occupying ten to twenty days in passing from southwest of the Azores islands by way of the West Indies and up or off our Atlantic coast. The recent hurricane, that did such vast damage at and near Charleston, S. C., according to relative positions of sun, moon and planets, must have organized on August 22 about 4000 miles southeast of Charleston.

DRAMATIZATION OF "PECK'S BAD BOY" AT THE THEATRE

Clever Cast Presented Popular Comedy Before Good-sized Audience.

With a competent cast taking the various roles, the dramatization of Ex-Gov. Peck's book, "Peck's Bad Boy," was popular favor with a good-sized audience at the Myers theatre last evening. The show is replete with comic situations and has been modernized so as to fit in some of the latest popular songs. Charles Warham, as Everett Peck, the tramp, did some clever dancing and vaudeville work and team work with Frank F. Miller, who took the part of Shultz, the groceryman. Paul Brady took the part of Henry Peck, the bad boy.

Gets What He Wants.

The man who would rather be right than be president generally has his preference gratified. — Philadelphia Record.

The Wolgast McFarland Fight

Where the Wolgast McFarland Fight Will Take Place and Pictures of the two Principals. The picture shows exterior and interior of the Milwaukee Coliseum. At right Packey McFarland at left Ad. Wolgast. Milwaukee, Wis.—It is not very often that the average follower of the boxing game has an opportunity of witnessing a ring contest in a building valued at $500,000 also it is not very often that a handsome structure which is partly owned by the municipality is utilized for the game of hit and step away.

However boxing fans from all parts of the country who will come to witness the contest between Champion Ad Wolgast and Packey McFarland, will have the distinction of occupying seats in a building where Ex-President Roosevelt addressed a throng of 10,000; where the National Dairy Show was held; where a chorus of 3,400 singers tent the air with their voices and where James J. Jeffries, while a champion, gave an exhibition. That building where McFarland and Wolgast will box on Sept. 15 in this city is the Auditorium, the largest building of its kind in the State of Wisconsin. It was built with the hope that some day in the near future there will be held in it a Democratic or Republican National convention; it was built to accommodate large gatherings and conventions. It is located in the down town district a half a dozen blocks from principal streets of the city.

And that structure—which costs a trifle over a half million dollars—is expected to be the scene of cheering, also come sorrow on the night of Sept. 15. The followers of that contest will cheer and applaud their champion and do it with as much ease and sincerity as if the fight were held in a barn in the outskirts of the city.

It should be made known that the Milwaukee Auditorium has been in existence only a few years and was built with $225,000 which was furnished by the city of Milwaukee. The city sold stock and hundreds of Milwaukeeans lay claim to a part owner-ship of that structure. The other $225,000 was raised by popular subscription.

Throughout the country there are numerous buildings and places where boxing contests are conducted but it is doubtful if any promoter of that sport in this country can boast of housing the fans as well as the club which stages the bout here this month.

The accompanying pictures show the Auditorium—exterior and interior. The cross shows where the elevated ring will be located. Around the ring will be opera seats and in addition there are thousands of seats in the gallery, on the stage and boxes running alongside the entire four sides of the interior of the building.

Some high prices have been paid for seats at boxing matches but at the McFarland-Wolgast contest $10 is the highest charged. And you can bet that every seat will be taken. In fact the progress of the seat sale which has been in progress only a very short time, is evidence that the house will be sold out.

It is expected that about 10,000 persons will witness the contest and according to the figures of the promoters, the receipts will be about $45,000.

C-B a la Spirite Corsets

Are You Wearing The Wrong Corset?

Look in the mirror—you can tell at a glance. If your figure is trim, properly rounded and in pleasing, graceful lines with long, tapering waist and hips, you are correctly corseted; otherwise you are spoiling a naturally good figure through an ill-fitting corset—it's all in the corset itself.

C-B a la Spirite Corsets are recognized leaders of the corsetier's highest art—come in Forty Different Models and in all sizes. The model that suits one figure will not suit another. Don't wear a corset intended for someone else. It is imperative that you get that particular model made for your figure—there comes a C-B a la Spirite Corset especially for your requirements. In it you will doubtlessly be pleasantly surprised at your own figure—it does make a transformation—but you must insist upon being given the model made for you. The saleslady will tell you which it is.

HEARING TUESDAY ALMOST CERTAIN TO BE HELD NOW

TAX COMMISSIONER LYONS STATES MR. MAXFIELD IS IN MADISON TO ARRANGE FOR DETAILS OF HEARING.

SUBPOENAS SERVED

Commissioner and Stenographer Expect to Complete Their Testimony in One Day.

It is now practically certain that the tax commission will be in Janesville on Tuesday next to hold the proposed hearing as to whether the present assessments of the city are too high and unequally apportioned or not, asked for in the complaint signed by Harry L. Maxfield and filed with the commission some days ago.

Commissioner Lyons, the old member of the commission in Madison, stated to a Gazette representative this afternoon that Mr. Maxfield had conferred with him this morning relative to the matter and had arranged for the appearance of the commissioners in Janesville Tuesday.

This announcement will come as a surprise to many who believe from Mr. Maxfield's statement, published recently, that he would be willing to work in conjunction with a committee of the Industrial and Commercial club in getting the matter without calling the state tax commission into the affair.

In fact a conference between Mr. Maxfield and the committee of the Industrial and Commercial club, composed of H. L. McNamara, V. P. Richardson and T. O. Howe was held and the matter placed before Mr. Maxfield with this in view. The plan suggested was that Mr. Maxfield, county supervisor of assessments Starr and the Industrial and Commercial club committee work together to adjust the tax matter.

As late as yesterday Mr. Starr had arranged with Maxfield to go to Madison on Monday to confer with the commissioners to postpone the hearing and delay matters until things could be adjusted here at least. Mr. Maxfield, however, went to Madison today and according to the dispatch this afternoon has decided to refuse to either postpone or drop the matter.

There is no question but the commission will order a reassessment and the results will be decidedly deleterious to the business interests of the city. Whether it will do any thing to alleviate the alleged fact that Janesville pays more than its share of the county taxes is not a matter that can be decided at this hearing.

It took under sheriff John Comstock several hours this morning to serve the subpoenas which were sent to Mr. Maxfield to have served. Some of the persons named were out of the city but the majority needed service and will be on hand when the time comes. The following is the list of those asked to be present. The list was evidently prepared by Mr. Maxfield for the consideration of the Tax Commission and one of the tenets is that some of the largest property owners are not summoned to appear. The absence of the owners of the Janesville Electric company, one of the firms to object to the assessment before the board of review last July, is noted, although the Janesville Water company and the New Gas Light company's officials are cited to be present. There are few tobacco men invited to tell what they know about the hearing is to take place and a reassessment made, they will be the ones most seriously affected.

The list of witnesses was evidently prepared with a view of bringing certain persons before the board, although if the hearing is held doubtless others will be called by the commission.

The list of those Mr. Comstock had to serve notice on is as follows: J. A. Craig, A. P. Lovejoy, H. M. Weber, E. H. Jackman, C. S. Jackman, A. Lawson, J. L. Wilcox, I. P. Werten-dyke, W. E. Palmer, Geo. S. Parker, Charles A. Mudgett, A. A. Plunk, G. M. McKee, Albert Schuller, Geo. F. Kimball, Wm. Morris, Geo. G. Rummel, Adams Holt, Geo. K. Tallman, Louis A. Williams, Philo Norcross, E. R. Peterson, John Peters, H. Myers, John Bennett, T. J. Lloyd, S. G. Judd, H. H. Bliss, H. E. Bliss, V. J. Richardson, H. L. McNamara, Geo. O. Bachholz, Harry O. Scowen, Herbert Cunningham, H. S. Becknell, Frank H. Mudgett, D. W. Holmes, Paul Colvin, J. P. Cullen, M. F. Green, H. M. Hanson, G. F. Bellman, A. C. Hough, A. J. Harris, J. B. Francis, P. E. Neeson, T. O. Howe.

CHINA IN TURMOIL;
TROUBLE EXPECTED

Admiral Murdock Is Instructed to Protect Americans With Gunboats.

FOREIGNER'S LIVES IN PERIL

Awarding of Railroad Contracts to Outsiders in Source of Trouble—Missionaries Are Ordered by Viceroy to Concentrate in Large Towns.

Washington, Sept. 8.—A crisis has arisen in the turbulent province of Szechuan, China, over the government's railroad policy. Admiral Murdock, U. S. A., has been called in to guard American citizens with American gunboats during the trouble.

A formidable international naval army is on hand in Chinese waters, and all the nations are preparing to act.

American Charge d'Affaires Williams at Peking cabled the state department that the situation had become critical, public meetings in various cities, accompanied by the closing of shops and schools and refusal to pay taxes, having culminated in serious disorders.

Murdock Has Five Ships.

Among the ships Admiral Murdock has under him in his command are his flagship, the Harbinger, stationed at Woonung; the New Orleans, at Shanghai, and two or three gunboats, which are cruising in the Yangtze river. Through the legation at Peking he was requested by cable to dispose the American gunboats in the manner best calculated to forestall possible danger to American citizens.

American missionaries have informed Mr. Williams that none of them have yet left their posts, except that American and British ladies have left Chung-Tu for Chung King.

Fight Against Dynasty.

The agitation against the railroad projects of the government is directed chiefly against the construction of the Szechuan-Hankow railroad, which is to be built with foreign capital.

State department officials say there is no reason to attribute the present uprising to the recent railway projects in which the United States is interested. Those railways, as now planned and under present concessions, lie wholly outside of the province of Szechuan.

Orders Missionaries In.

Peking, Sept. 8.—Missionaries in the outlying districts of Szechuan provinces have been ordered by the viceroy to concentrate in the larger towns, in consequence of the general unrest among the natives, arising from the government's railroad policy.

All foreigners in Cheng-Tu, the capital of Szechuan province, are taking refuge in the compound of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada.

NAME GORMAN FOR GOVERNOR

Democrats and Republicans of Maryland Nominate State Tickets.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 8.—State Senator Arthur P. Gorman, Jr., Democrat, and Philip Lee Goldsborough, Republican, collector of internal revenue for this district, were nominated for governor by their respective party conventions here. In the state primary last month Gorman defeated State Senator Blair Lee by one vote. Golds-borough was unopposed.

President Taft's administration was strongly endorsed by the Republicans.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 8.—United States Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson were renominated at the Democratic primaries for the long and short terms respectively to the United States senate. The result was considered a machine victory.

TRAIN PLUNGE INJURES 15

Spreading Rails Causes Wreck Near Mount Vernon, Ill.

Pinckneyville, Ill., Sept. 8.—The Jubach, Chester & Western local passenger train running between Chester and Mount Vernon, Ill., plunged through a trestle here, injuring 15 persons, eight seriously, who fell 40 feet with four cars to the creek below.
The train was running 30 miles an hour when spreading rails caused the wreck.

Those seriously injured were: Conductor W. T. Adams, S. C. Holcomb, Centerville, Ill.; Sheriff Samuel Duncan, Tamaroa, Ill.; County Clerk H.
H. Sims, Tamaroa, Ill.; Charles Pettit,
Villa Grove, Ill.; L. S. Henderson, Waltonville, Ill.; G. M. Condon and Baggageman J. S. Davis.

'SKEETERS' ROUT MORGAN

Financier Is Forced to Flee From Pests on Yacht Corsair.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Sept. 8.—It was not often that J. P. Morgan "runs away," but "he Jersey mosquitoes" put him to flight. Mr. Morgan was spending the night on his yacht, the Corsair, off Eighty-first street, but the mosquitoes became so unbearable that Mr. Morgan ordered the captain to weigh anchor and steam up the Hudson to Ardsley. The financier sent ashore for the New York papers and the Corsair steamed back to New York.

POPE SUFFERS RELAPSE:
RELATIVES ARE SUMMONED

Recurrence of Gout, Aggravated by Uraemic Poisoning, Alarms Physicians and Vatican Officials.

Rome, Sept. 8.—The pope has suffered another relapse, and so serious is his holiness's condition that Professor Marchisani has been asked to resume his daily visits. There is much anxiety felt on the pope's condition in Vatican circles.

While it is announced that the re-lapse is due merely to a recurrence of the gouty symptoms that so greatly annoyed the pontiff and caused him extreme pain two or three weeks ago,
it has been learned from an undoubted authority that in addition to the gout
the pope is suffering from consequent uraemic poisoning.

The first indication of the relapse came Wednesday when the pope complained for the first time in nearly two weeks of severe pain in his right knee. Professor Petrucci was instantly summoned and to his surprise found the knee greatly swollen. This condition, in conjunction with the advanced age of the pontiff and his debilitated condition, are regarded in a very serious light by the papal archiatra, who at once requested his colleague, Professor Marchisani, to resume his daily visits.

The pope's sisters and niece, who were enjoying a holiday at Frascati, in the Alban Hills, have returned hurriedly to Rome. They declined to state whether they had been called home owing to the condition of the pontiff. The holy father evidently did not expect his sisters and when they were ushered into his bedroom he gently reproached them for interrupting their holiday, yet he could not conceal his pleasure at again having them near him.

The pope's brother, Angelo Sarto,
who is the postmaster of the village of Mantua, has also arrived in Rome accompanied by his two sons. He declared that he had been summoned
on account of the relapse to the pope.
The Vatican physicians hope that the presence of the pope's relatives will cheer him during the present trying period.

MUCH CONCEDED BY FRANCE

London Gets Report Morocco Deal Involves Sacrifice in Congo.

London, Sept. 8.—The Mail today gives prominence to a statement from an anonymous diplomatic correspondent who says France's sacrifice of territory in the Congo, although less than Germany demanded, is to such an extent that it will surprise and perhaps exasperate the French, but the compensation will be found in the conditions France insists upon in Morocco.

France proposes the new agreement
take the form of a treaty or convention signed by European powers and the United States. If Germany consents, Austria and Italy will consent, Great Britain and Russia having already assented.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—The French ambassador, Jules Cambon, was closeted with Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, the foreign minister, and it is understood received Germany's reply to France.

There is absolute official secrecy maintained, but the most trustworthy
reports are extremely optimistic.
Amsterdam, Sept. 8.—The Dutch reservists are kept under arms for an extra period of 23 days, and naval maneuvers are being carried out in the North sea. This, it is said, is due to Holland's anxiety over the Moroccan negotiations.

FOOD CRISIS STIRS FRENCH
CABINET TO ACTION

High Prices Agitation Brings Suspension of Tariff on Fodder—
Other Steps Taken.

Paris, Sept. 8.—A cabinet council presided over by President Poincaré was held at Rambouillet to consider the disorders arising from the cheaper food agitation, and to adopt measures intended to ease the cost of living. The minister of commerce and the minister of agriculture explained in detail the results of their investigation of the problem. Premier Cail-leux submitted a project which will allow communes the privilege of operating municipal butcher shops and tenements, and in this way keep down the price of meat and rents.

The cabinet approved a scheme to ameliorate the situation by facilitating the importation of cattle and frozen meats by installing refrigerat-ing and storage plants, of which there are a lack in France, by demanding that the railways lower their rates for the transportation of food, and by suspending the tariff on fodders.

Charlottesville, Sept. 8.—Twenty thousand persons of the working class, protesting against the high cost of food, attempted to march into the lower districts of the city. Squadrons of cavalry charged through the streets and succeeded in dispersing the crowds
after two hours.

TWO KILLED FROM AMBUSH

Mining Contractor and Companion Severely Jostled by Mob.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 8.—Joseph Zehner, a contract miner, and his driver, named Hopkins, were held up on a mountain near Nesquehoning, and shot dead. A tin box containing $3,000 intended for the payment of the wages of Zehner's employees, was stolen. No trace of the highwaymen has been obtained.

Zehner had charge of extensive coal operations for the Lehigh Valley Coal and Navigation company.

Hungary's War Chief Quits.

Vienna, Sept. 8.—The Austro-Hungarian minister of war, Gen. Baron von Schöningh, resigned.

Canonsburg, Pa.—Had there been one cool-headed man in the Canonsburg opera house on the night of August 26th, the frightful catastrophe in which over twenty people were killed and many injured, would have been avoided. It has been proven before the investigation committee who took up the evidence in the case, that there was no fire and no danger of fire in the theatre at the time except as it was created through the stampede of the mob, due to the cry of "fire."

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF C. A. R. WRECK IN WHICH 27 WERE KILLED AND 100 HURT.

First picture of disaster on the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Manchester,
New York, last week when due to a defective rail, the 14 car train carrying veterans east, ran off the trestle work over a small creek and 4 cars were completely demolished, resulting in the death of 27, and injuries to over 100. This wreck combined with the epidemic of other railroad accidents throughout the past few weeks,
has caused the U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission to start an inquiry into the general cause of train wrecks.
The picture shows one day coach
on end and on the side of the bank
at the right, the diner and other day coach which were overturned and in which many lost their lives.

Aviation and the Wife.
Aviation has served to accentuate the rights of a wife in her husband's life. Austria has conceded the fair ness of a wife's protest against her husband's becoming a "birdman." It that empire it is illegal for a married man to make an aerial flight as motorist of passenger without the consent of his wife and children. A Viennese newspaper enters violent protest, on the score of suggesting "black mail" by such wives as really desire widowhood. Instead of dipping into the pockets of her husband's clothes a wife can demand a settlement of the joint estate upon her, and in the event of the aviator's return can put him into the street.

Not All the Nerve Extracted.
A patient entered a dentist's office
the other day, and after showing a swollen cheek for admittance to the chair, was told that the tooth was "very bad," and that the nerve would need to be removed. The operation finished, the stranger placed his hat firmly on his head, leisurely drew on his gloves and requested that the account be charged. After he was gone, the dentist turned to a friend who had been in the room and said: "Tom,
I don't know that man. I am sorry
the operation wasn't successful." "But it was successful," returned the other, astonished. "The man was feeling fine when he left here. Why wasn't it a success?" "I didn't extract all the nerve," responded the dentist.

Caves in Western Australia.
Wonderful caves have been discovered in Western Australia by the Hon.
J. D. Connelly, the colonial secretary.
While visiting in the southwest
he explored the Moondine cave, four miles from Karriakale, and found it to be of surprising beauty. "I have," he says, "seen all the other caves in Western Australia, and also the well-known Jenolan caves of New South Wales, but I say without hesitation that the Moondine, which is to be known in the future as the Coronation cave, far exceeds the whole of them. After four hours' exploration, two large beautiful chambers, which it is proposed to call King George and Queen Mary, respectively, were discovered. Each of them is far superior in beauty to any cavern in Australia.
I am certain from the conformation of the country that a cave will be found to contain still more beautiful chambers."

"THE ROSARY."

Rowland and Clifford's new play "The Rosary," which has just closed three successful runs in New York, Boston and Chicago, comes to the Myers Theatre, Saturday, Sept. 9, matinee and evening. The discriminating public will then be given an opportunity to see pictured before them a decided answer to the growing interest and religion of our times. Not that "The Rosary" is a decision merely; it is a faithful picture of the industry and unhappiness that comes upon a man who takes faith in the supreme good and its inevitable triumph in our world.

A typical American family is taken as a fair example of every day conditions that obtain throughout the United States. The husband, a man interested in business, the exacting business of Wall Street and Stock Exchange.

Little by little he has fallen away from faith of his fathers, that faith that brought our public into being. He has replaced it by an agnostic attitude all too prevalent in our day and time. The wife believes, her confidence in an all wise, all prevailing good has not been shaken; and so when storm and stress comes, the man with no anchor is swept away by the storm.

THE COW AND THE MOON

A brand new musical extravaganza, "The Cow and the Moon" is announced for presentation on Saturday Sept. 9, Matinee and evening at the Myers Theatre.

It is C. A. Sellen's latest hit, and it is said to be making a bigger hit than any of his former successes, which always proved so amusing when they have been shown in past seasons.

Among the many scenes and effects Mr. Sellen presents two new starters, the interior of a Pullman Sleeping Car, an exact duplicate of one of the latest models, with the entire company in transit across the continent to the land of the moon. Another thriller is the approaching locomotive commencing with a tiny speck of light in the distance and gradually approaching, little by little until the huge bulk of a giant engine appears and stops at the footlights, the grinding of wheels and the breaking, rising of steam and the clanging of the bell is said to be most realistic.

Many other novelties in surprising scenic effects furnish unusual surroundings to the prettily gownned girls who interpret the clever music by Carl von Leo Colby. A company of forty

Siberia's Awful Cold.

Siberia has the coldest weather known anywhere in the world. At Verkhoyansk, Siberia, 90.4 degrees below zero was observed in January, 1888, which goes below anything ever known in the world before or since.

At that point the average temperature for January is nearly 61 degrees below zero. This town is 320 feet above the level of the sea, and during the entire winter the weather is calm and clear.

TAKE "MONA LISA" SUSPECTS

Foreigners Held in Spain Say Their Picture Is Only a Copy.

Madrid, Sept. 8.—The newspaper Espana Libre says that two foreigners have been arrested at Leon. They were carrying a basket containing a "Mona Lisa." The men protested against their detention, asserting that the picture was only a copy of Leonardo Da Vinci's stolen masterpiece, which they were taking to Coimbra where they reside.

The police refuse to give out any information.

WIFE SLAYER IS SENTENCED

Michigan Murderer Is Given Life Term at Hard Labor.

Charlotte, Mich., Sept. 8.—William E. Lomberry, the Diamond Lake wife murderer, who some weeks ago confessed to the crime, was found guilty of murder in the second degree. Judge Smith sentenced him to Jackson prison for life at hard labor. Lomberry claims that his aged mother was the direct cause of the trouble between him and his wife that led up to the crime.

Strike Makes the Rates.

Liverpool, Sept. 8.—As a result of the strike, the shipping companies engaged in the Atlantic trade have decided to increase freight rates ten percent next week.

The Highest Garden.

The highest garden in the world is said to be the Alpine Garden of Hotan, which was held out by the late Canon Chanois, formerly rector of the Hospice of Little St. Bernard, the London Globe has discovered. It is situated at an elevation of 2,200 meters, or 7,150 feet. Here are to be found almost all species of mountain flowers, not only those common in the Alps, Pyrenees, Carpathians, the Caucasus and the Balkans, but even from far off Himalaya.

The canon conceived the idea in 1878, but it was not until 1902 that his project became effective. In the latter year the commune of Thulle gave him the land.

ROUGH ORDEAL FOR MADERO

Mexican Presidential Candidate Is Severely Jostled by Mob.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Sept. 8.—Francisco I. Madero, the candidate of the progressive party for president, was the victim of a mob on his arrival here, being crowded and hustled until made thoroughly angry. Stones were thrown and several members of the crowd received injuries.

The progressive nominee was literally tossed into his automobile. Slow progress was made through the streets and many persons were thrown down and trampled upon.

Senor Madero in a speech said General Reyes was trying to rob him of the fruits of victory, accused his rival of criminal acts and said he hoped he would be forced to leave the country.

ONE DIES IN BOILER BLAST

Five Others Seriously Injured When Sawmill Is Demolished.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 8.—The boiler of the J. J. Russell saw mill on Big Day, Madeline Island, Lake Superior, blew up just as the crew was starting to work. Clyde Jersey, a fifteen-year-old boy, was killed instantly. His father, Henry J. Jersey, and four other men were seriously, if not fatally injured. Henry Nichols of Ashland had both legs nearly torn off.

The saw mill was demolished and the boiler was blown into Lake Superior.

EXCURSION BOAT HITS REEF

Steamer Snyder Struck in Mississippi Near Moline—Passengers Safe.

Moline, Ill., Sept. 8.—The excursion steamer Snyder, with 650 eastern Iowa boosters on board, struck a rock reef in the Mississippi river. The boat is stranded half a mile out from shore in three and one-half feet of water.

The passengers were loaded on to a big sand barge brought alongside the steamer and hauled to shore by a towboat. They took cars to Davenport and had supper furnished by the Davenport Commercial club.

The Snyder, which left Dubuque, Ia., loaded with the mayors of three Iowa cities, four boards of aldermen, and four bands, had fairly easy going till it began its passage down the harbor channel leading into the Moline lock.

When in sight of the lock gates, the boat struck the rock bottom and became stranded.

Melody of the Turbine.

In a turbine steamer the rhythmic thumping of the pistons disappears and instead the engines give out a thin soprano song that rises or falls in key with the speed, sometimes suggesting a continuous squeal from the struggling giants of steam striving to escape from their close confinement inside the big iron jackets.

"THE TRAVELING SALESMAN," MYERS THEATRE, MONDAY, SEPT. 11.

of agency; the woman remains steadfast, moved by her faith to outlive the tempter.

Through all the heartbreaks and tears, through all the agony and anguish, clear and serene moves the wonderful figure of a modern Catholic priest, whose life has been dedicated to God and the service of his fellow men. It is his clear spiritual vision that sees through the web that has been woven about the two people whom he loves and it is his faith and God given power that sets them free.

It is a wonderful preachment of faith's mighty power, of the saving grace of the good that lies all about us.

The tremendous story, powerful in its simplicity, is interwoven with the higher threads of rare humor, of the sort that one loves to take away from the theatre and muse over in idle moments.

Ready to Race at Montreal.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—The Montreal Jockey Club's final meeting for 1911 opens tomorrow with the promise of one of the best meetings ever held at the famous Blue Bonnets track. The track is in its nearly perfect condition as possible, and many improvements have been made to the plant since the close of the spring meeting. The stands are filled with nearly 100 hundred horses, all fit and ready for the start's bell.

The meeting will continue through the whole of next week. The over-night purses will be mostly of a value of five hundred dollars, while there are a number of handicaps to be run. The big stake events of the meeting will be the Earl Grey Cup, for 3-year-olds and up, with $1,000 added, mile and a quarter; the Hochelaga Handicap, for 2-year-olds, six furlongs, with $1,000 added; the Strathearn Steeplechase, for 4-year-olds and up, two and a half miles, with $1,000 added; the Derby Cup, for 3-year-olds and up, Canadian owned, one and three-fourth miles, with $1,000 added; the Chumpton Stakes, for 2-year-olds and up, one mile, with $1,000 added; the Herbie Memorial Steeplechase, for 4-year-olds and up, 3 miles, with $1,000 added.

Admission Day Celebration.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Sept. 8.—Special and regular trains brought to Santa Rosa today thousands of visitors for the annual Admission Day celebration tomorrow. The visitors come from every nook and corner of the California and the railroad men estimated that fully 10,000 strangers will be in town before tomorrow morning. In honor of the occasion the business section of the city is handsomely decorated and illuminated. Many of the delegations are accompanied by bands and drum corps. The festivities will begin bright and early tomorrow and continue over Sunday. The programme will include in addition to the big parade of Native Son paraders and Native paraders free street entertainment, band concerts, dancing, athletic events and fireworks.

METHODIST SUPERINTENDENTS WILL MEET IN MADISON.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 8.—The ten district superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal church in Wisconsin will meet in this city next Monday evening for a session preparatory to the annual conference, to be held at Sparta Sept. 15-20. Bishop John Hamilton of Rock County, who will preside at the Sparta conference, will also have charge of the Madison meeting.

Col. W. J. Anderson has been elected delegate from the First Methodist church of this city to the conference, and Attorney Frank W. Hall is alternate.

GOVERNMENT REPORT ON CROP CONDITION

CULLETIN ISSUED BY UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE THIS AFTERNOON.

YIELDS MUCH LOWER

Corn, Wheat, Barley and Oats Have Yields Less Than Last Year and Than Five Year Average.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Sept. 8.—The September crop report of the United States Department of Agriculture, Reporting Board, issued at 2:15 p. m. today, shows the condition on September 1st and the yield per acre, as indicated by the condition on that date, of the principal farm crops of the country and the preliminary estimate of the total yield of each, as follows:

Corn.—Condition, 70.3 per cent of a normal, compared with 69.6 per cent, on August 1, 78.2 per cent on Sept. 1, 1910, and 79.3 per cent, the ten year, Sept. 1, average. Indicated yield per acre, 72.6 bushels compared with 27.4 bushels, the 1910 final yield, and 27.1 bushels, the average for the past five years.

Spring Wheat.—Condition 56.7 per cent of a normal at time of harvest, compared with 59.8 per cent, on Aug. 1, 63.1 per cent at time of harvest last year and 78.7 per cent, at time of harvest for the past ten years. Indicated yield per acre, 9.3 bushels compared with 11.7 bushels, the 1910 final yield, and 13.5 bushels, the average for the past five years.

Fall Wheat.—Indicated yield per acre 12.6 bushels, compared with 14.1 bushels, the 1910 final yield and 14.7 the average for the past five years.

Oats.—Condition, 64.5 per cent of a normal at time of harvest, compared with 65.7 per cent, on August 1, 53.3 per cent, at time of harvest in 1910, and 79.5 per cent, the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 23.9 bushels, compared with 31.9 bushels in 1910, and 28.1 bushels, the average yield for the past five years.

Barley.—Condition 65.3 per cent of a normal at time of harvest, compared with 68.2 per cent, on August 1, 68.8 per cent, at time of harvest in 1910, and 83.0 per cent, the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 20.3 bushels, compared with 22.1 bushels, the 1910 final yield, and 24.8 bushels, the average yield for the past five years.

Wheat.—Condition 53.8 per cent, of a normal, compared with 82.9 per cent on August 1, 82.3 per cent in 1910, and 87.1 per cent, the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 19.6 bushels compared with 20.9 bushels, the 1910 final yield, and 19.6 bushels, the average yield for the past five years.

Potatoes.—Condition 59.8 per cent of a normal compared with 62.3 per cent on August 1, 79.5 per cent in 1910, and 78.9 per cent, the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 74.2 bushels, compared with 94.4 bushels, the 1910 final yield, and 96.9 bushels, the average yield for the past five years.

Tobacco.—Condition 71.1 per cent of a normal compared with 68.0 per cent on August 1, 77.7 per cent, in 1910, and 82.3 per cent, the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 714.6 pounds, compared with 797.8 pounds the 1911 final yield, and 826.0 pounds the average yield for the past five years.

Flax.—Condition 68.4 per cent of a normal, compared with 71.0 per cent on August 1, 48.3 per cent in 1910 and 81.8 per cent, the eight year average. Indicated yield per acre, 7.7 bushels compared with 4.8 bushels, the 1910 final yield and 9.9 bushels the average yield for the past five years.

Wheat.—Condition 87.2 per cent of a normal compared with 88.3 per cent on August 1, 88.8 per cent in 1910 and 88.2 per cent the ten year average. Indicated yield per acre, 32.1 bushels compared with 33.5 bushels the 1910 final yield, and 32.1 bushels, the average yield for the past five years.

Hay.—Preliminary returns indicate a total yield of about 46,909,000 tons, as compared with 69,378,000 tons finally estimated last year and 63,507,000 tons, the average annual production in the past five years. The preliminary estimated yield per acre is about 1.9 tons compared with 1.35 tons the 1910 final yield and 1.11 tons the average yield for the past five years. The quality is 90.3 per cent compared with 92.5 per cent, last year and a ten year average of 91.1 per cent.

Apples.—Condition 56.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 55.9 per cent on August 1, 46.8 per cent in 1910 and 52.6 per cent, the ten year average.

Wisconsin Figures.—The death rate per 1000 population for Wisconsin in 1910 was 12. No figures for 1909 were obtainable.

MARKET UNSETTLED WITH MANY LOSSES

After Early Trading, However, Most of the Important Stocks Became Steady.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

New York, Sept. 8.—The stock market was feverish and unsettled at the opening today, losses ranging around a point being sustained in many instances. After the initial trading a healthy tone prevailed.

LIVE STOCK MARKET IS STRONGER TODAY

Class 14—Team Road Horses—J. M. Hyland, 1st; O. H. Perry, 2nd.
The racing program late yesterday afternoon consisted of two heats. In the 2:35 trot, both of which were won by Six Cylinder Penn. The money in the race was awarded as follows: Six Cylinder Penn, 1st; Carrie Allerton, 2nd; Herbert Oh-Se, 3rd; and Fearless Onward, 4th.

Fair Notes.
The trotting ostrich, which has been appearing daily, was again in evidence yesterday and circled the half mile track, pulling a light road wagon and driver, much to the amusement of the large crowd. The bird was brought to the track hooded and as soon as the covering is removed from its eyes seems to know what is expected of it as it starts without any difficulty and circles the track in about five minutes.

W. O. Douglas, who resides near this city, is the proprietor of a large cattle farm in the fair with a large exhibit of Jersey cattle and Poland China hogs. Yesterday between heats of the races he drove a team of Jerseys yoked to a light cart down the stretch in front of the grandstand.

Driver Wentworth of Edgerton, who rode behind Flora W. in the 2:20 pace was called to the judges' stand after the first heat and questioned as to whether he was driving to win. He was ordered to drive his horse to win on pain of being taken from his cart and another driver substituted.

Leland H. Hoover of Oniro, Wis., is acting as starter of the races and is giving splendid satisfaction. While he has been acting in this capacity for several years, yet this is his first season at the Rock County fair.

A feature of the fair this year in the absence of drunkenness and rowdiness of all kinds. While the crowds are large, yet the most perfect order is being maintained.

Following the final heat in the 2:35 trot yesterday Mr. Riddle, the owner of Fearless Onward, protested the placing of Herbert Oh-Se for third money on the grounds that he was not entitled to enter the race. It could not be learned on what exact ground he based his contention as the judges held it confidential.

Pleasure as an End.
The man who chooses pleasure as the object of his life has no real haven, but is like a boat that beats up and down and drifts and drifts to and fro, merely to feel the motion of the waves and the impulse of the wind. When the voyage of life is done he has reached no port, he has accomplished nothing.—Henry Van Dyke.

A Serious Matter.

To take a woman too seriously is to take her for life.—Merida Thues-Union.

Tact.
Tact is not a gift, but an acquisition, and yet there is something temperamental about it. It is like a singer. Some have voices easily trained, others voices difficult to subdue, some such as are hopelessly rebellious.

All in Imagination.
If a man were to place himself in an attitude to bear manfully the greatest evil that could be inflicted on him, he would suddenly find that there was no evil to bear.—Henry D. Thoreau.

The Largest Tree.
What is declared to be the largest tree in the world is the famous tulip tree that stands in the churchyard at Mita, Mexico. The body of this wonderful tree is 146 feet in circumference, and although it was measured more than 300 years ago it cannot be seen that the tree is making any growth. Thousands of people visit the tree each year. There is no accurate way by which its great age can be determined, but the best judges place it at several thousand years. Its exterior is very rough, and as it has the appearance of being decayed it is thought the interior is decaying. Steps are being taken to preserve the wonderful growth, but time has worked such wonders that man in his weak way scarcely knows what to do to help to retain its life. Other large tulip trees are in the same locality, but none of them approaches the one in the old churchyard.—Philadelphia North American.

Dutch Proverb.
It is bad courting with unwilling hounds.

Woman Educators.
Intelligent women should be consulted in matters of education generally and in the treatment and discipline of children especially. But more particularly are they the best judges of the education of girls and the subjects they should be taught. The great majority of public school teachers are women and it might be well to have women on the governing board, with whom these teachers can confer more freely than they can with men.—Baltimore Sun.

Professional Superiority.
The radical type of golf enthusiast is exemplified in the report of a St. Andrews caddy to the university professor: "Anybody can teach a whorl loona Latin and Greek, but golf, ye see, nowf requires a heid."

Guarding Against Black Sheep.
There is at the baker's seventh place an Oberhofmeisterin, a lady who has been described as a court chamberlain in petticoats, who has to make personal acquaintance with every lady before she attends a court.

Peculiar Contract Upheld.
In a Belfast branch of promise case the man, a farmer, won. He agreed to marry a spinster if she could raise $500. She was able to get together only $300, so the farmer called it off, despite the fact that he had ordered the clergyman to be on hand to marry them. The judge said that the promise to marry was conditional and the condition had not been fulfilled.

Russians Lovers of Music.
As patrons of music the Russians are only second to the Germans; they are devotees of the latter, where musical productions are the chief sources of amusement, and the poorest peasant manages to cheer the dull hours in his lowly home with an accordion or some other cheap instrument.

A Homely Remedy.
A somewhat old-time but successful remedy for swollen feet is to bathe them in water in which wood ashes have been boiled. The water must be cooled and strained before the feet are placed in it.

NO MAN'S LAND A ROMANCE

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

In the vast two men were struggling, locked in one another's arms and staggering, now this way, now that, neither uttering a sound. They fought strongly, each with a passionate concentration of effort, each in silence.

He saw one suddenly give way, as though his foot had slipped. He went down upon a knee, the weight of his antagonist heavy upon him, and recovered only with a tremendous and convulsive effort, but now with his hold broken and at the other's mercy. In half a dozen breaths he was rushed to the fall (where he attempted futilely a last stand), forced backward over it and so held. A flat was lifted above him and fell like a hammer. There followed a splash, but no outcry. The man went under like a log. The schooner slipped onward with growing impetus, sails billowing luminous. No life-preserver was thrown, not a hand raised, not so far as Coast could discern, a head turned to see the fate of the defeated.

Loosening the draw-string of his pyjamas and ripping off the jacket, Coast leaped to the Echo's stern, poised himself lithely and shot out, clearing the water almost without a splash.

Warmth came of exertion; refreshed, invigorated, he swam with swift and strength, concerned only to reach his goal before the man could sink finally. At length winning to his side, he held off warily, watching for a chance to close in and at the same time escape the clutch of those valiantly thrashing arms.

"Now, now!" he cried, as one might strive to soothe a restive horse. "Easy, there! You're only tiring yourself out."

The splashing ceased in some measure, the man wiggling awkwardly round to bring the source of that voice within his range of understanding. "Lord!" he said, breathless. "You're welcome."

Encouraged by this note of sanity, Coast swam nearer. "Need any help?" "What do you think?"

The moderate exasperation of this reply reduced a spontaneous laugh from Coast, which he checked abruptly as the other man again went under, to an accompaniment of frantic kicks and splashes. Before Coast could reach him he re-emerged, blowing and sputtering.

"Heavily tasting water," he commented between gasps, resting. "What the devil are you trying to do?"

"Get rid of these damnable trousers; they won't let me swim."

"If I lend you a hand, will you—"

"No; I won't grab you. I know the answer to that, and I've had one swim between the eyes already. Come along and be a hero, why don't you?"

Coast chuckled as he ranged alongside. "Put one hand on my right shoulder," he advised, "and keep as still as possible. I'll do the swimming."

"You're the doctor." The man followed his instructions promptly. "Sorry to trouble you, though."

"That's all right."

"It's these infernal clothes. I can swim without them. Every try tonight robe on the bed of the sea?"

After a time, in a reflective tone, "No for the Demon Rum after this," came over his shoulder. "I never knew water could taste so vile."

Coast made no reply; apparently none was expected. Laboriously gaining to the side of the cabot, he clung to it, panting, while the other considerably transferred his hold. Haunting so, he rolled an inquiring eye to his benefactor.

"This occasion," he observed, "is quite too unique. Never have I met a man I liked so well, under similar auspices. Permit me: my name is Appleyard, Christian name (from the Old Testament) Melchisedec—kindness of sponsors in baptism. Please don't look like that; I regret it, likewise."

He paused, watching Coast gravely. "Melchisedec means 'king of righteousness,' but don't be alarmed; mistakes will happen even at the baptismal font. . . . And you, sir?"

"Coast—Gerrit Coast."

"Congratulations: that has a human ring. And I am pleased to meet you. None the less, I owe him no gratitude who cheats me of a watery grave to freeze me to death. Upon my word of honor (whatever that may be), I cannot move . . . anything except my jaw."

Laughing, Coast scrambled aboard the boat, and leaning out caught the man beneath the arms. After considerable exertion on the part of both, he tumbled into the cockpit and incontinently, with a heavy sigh, collapsed on the deck, in a dead faint.

In alarm his rescuer dived below and returned with towels and a bottle of brandy. The latter being immediately resorted to, brought Mr. Appleyard back to consciousness.

"Very good stuff," he commented, half-strangled. "I had a premonition that my season-ticket on the water-wagon had run out. . . . I assure you I swallowed a cubic foot of Fairhaven harbor; all my insides are insulted."

"Get up," said Coast, "get those clothes off and dry yourself. I'll lend you a blanket and a berth for the night."

"With all the pleasure in life."

Coast took him down into the cabin, assigning him the starboard berth. "I trust you'll be comfortable," he said, with a solicitude not unmixed with wonder that so much fire and fortitude could inhabit a frame so frail and slight.

"Sure to be," Appleyard rolled himself luxuriously into his blanket and breathed deeply of his content. "But how can one feel at ease . . . who strolls stark-naked . . . aboard a perfect stranger's . . . private yacht . . . and—er—eh!—makes himself at home without . . . so much as by your leave . . . ?"

"Don't—" Coast started to reassure him.

He was interrupted by a slight but unquestionably sincere snore.

CHAPTER V.

Sunlight and shadow playing in swift alternation upon his face, as the Echo coasted to the morning breeze, Coast awakened.

For a moment almost thoughtless he lay drowsily enjoying the rise and dip of the boat, as drowsily conscious of a faint thrill of excitement; mostly comparable, perhaps, to the first waking sensations of a fourteen-year-old boy on a Fourth of July morning.

Then, without warning the small chronometer on the transverse above his head rapped out smartly two double-chimes—ships' time: four bells: ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Astonished, he sat up quickly, and this still sleepy gaze, passing through the companionship, encountered the impassioned regard of the solidant Melchisedec Appleyard. Promptly Coast found himself in full possession of his faculties. That in obedience to first instincts he nodded with a cordial smile, was significant.

Appleyard returned the salutation with a quick bob of his small head. "Good-morning, hero!" he sang out cheerfully.

He sat in the cockpit, huddled into the folds of a gray blanket, voluminous ous for his slight figure; a thin but wiry forearm bared to wield the cigarette he was smoking with every indication of enjoyment.

"Good-morning," he returned. "How do you feel after your adventure?" "Unclothed but in my right mind," said Appleyard, with a twinkle of anxiety amending: "to the best of my knowledge and belief." He indicated briefly the various articles constituting his painfully simple wardrobe. "Waiting for 'em to dry."

Appleyard hopped up, fingered his everyday attire critically, and pronounced it home-dry; then, bundling it up, he returned to the cabin, seating himself on the opposite transom to dress.

"And the sensations of a hero, refreshed by sound slumbers, are—"

"Hunger," said Coast. He moved forward and began to experiment gingerly with a new and untried alcohol stove. "I can offer you eggs, coffee, biscuit—and nothing else," he added, producing raw materials from a locker. "You see, I hadn't expected to entertain."

"Rotten inconsiderate of you," Appleyard grumbled. "I'll wire you a warning next time it occurs to me to drop in unexpectedly."

Divided between amusement and perplexity, in the course of the meal Coast reviewed a personality singularly enriched by a variety of suggestions consistently negative. The man's age was indeterminate—somewhere between thirty and forty-five. Loosely summarized, he might have been anybody or nobody on a lark or his uppers.

Appleyard looked up quickly, with a shy, humorous smile. "Well, what do you make of me?"

"It's hard enough to guess what you've made of yourself."

"Flattery note," observed Appleyard obscurely. "Yet you win my sympathy; sometimes I am moved to wonder—really." He tapped an egg thoughtfully, a crinkle forming between his colorless eyebrows. "It's really not what a man makes of himself; it's what his temperament does to him."

"Temperament!"

"Yes; you really ought to keep one, too; they're all the rage just now—and such excellent excuses for the indulgence of your pet idiosyncrasies."

"Oh! . . . And you blame yours for what?"

"For making me a—I presume positively, in the final analysis, will adjudge me a Romantic."

"Literature?" asked Coast, aghast. "Good heavens, no! Nothing like that; Life." He sighed profoundly.

"Shall I rehearse to you the story of my life? No, I shall not rehearse to you the story of my life. But at all costs I shall talk about myself for a space; I insist upon it: I love to. You don't seriously object?" he added, anxious.

"Then compose yourself. . . . Born at an early age—in fact, at an early age as you can comfortably imagine—I found myself immediately the sport of sardonic fortunes. That name, Melchisedec! One felt that there must be in one's future life some warmth of Romance to compensate for that infamous ignominy. So I belied any reasonable human should logically have looked forward to sure degeneration into the American peasant of the New England imagination: type, wane brains, bowels, breadth, beauty. A born iconoclast, however, as soon as I awakened to realization of my plight I mutilated and resolved to live down my shame. Thenceforward I set myself to painstaking muckraking in modern life, seeking the compensating Romance without which life were but death in life." He paused and cocked an eye at Coast. "Not bad for a beginning, what?"

"A little prolix," commented Coast dispassionately, falling in with his humor. "But—continue. You found your Romance?"

"What is so-called—alas, yes! I found it, as a rule, a non de guerre for crime. . . . Lured by legend, I have traversed much of the known world, only to come to that conclusion. I have penetrated the fastnesses of the Tennessee mountains, noting the illicit still: which proved merely soiled. Counterfeiting seemed to promise largely—and discovered itself the most ill-paid calling in the world. Diplomatic intrigue unmasked proved to be merely a popular fallacy shining in the reflected luster of the Six West Sellers. . . . But I refrain from wearying you with a catalogue of the exploded mines of Romance; a list inordinately lengthy, believe me. High finance, I admit, escaped my probe; but the recent plague of "Wall Street" plays discouraged me, demonstrating there could be no Romance there. . . . So at length you find me turning in despair to the Seven Seas; aloft, at all events, one must of necessity pursue the glamorous promise of the Unknown that lurks just down the horizon."

Appleyard paused, his mien subdued, his gesture bespeaking resignation.

"All of which means—" Coast insisted.

"I hardly know. Frankly, I thought that speech rather stupid myself. That's why I chopped it off. . . . One talks. . . . You may have noticed."

"I have," said Coast drily.

"You would, naturally," returned Appleyard without resentment. "But would it amuse you to learn how I came to be on board that fisherman?"

"You mean how you came to be overboard. . . . Perhaps it would."

"True," Appleyard accepted and lighted a cigarette, frowning soberly. "It was," he began, "due principally to my fatal passion for this Romance thing, sir. I have already acquainted you with my determination to pursue my quest of that shy spirit upon the trackless ocean. Conceive, now, the bitterness of the disappointment which overwhelmed my ardent soul when I aspired for a berth as a foremast hand, only to be informed I was physically unfit, that, as one brutal mate phrased it, I'd blow away in the first half-gale. . . . I give you my word, Mr. Coast, I've been sticking round this waterfront a whole fortnight, vainly seeking nautical employment. Last night, for the first time, for a few brief hours, I was permitted to flatter myself that fortune was on the point of favoring me. For a fugitive moment I slipped the chains of Romance and rolled its flavor beneath my tongue."

Appleyard half closed his eyes and smacked his lips, his expression one of beatific bliss.

"You've a pretty taste in pleasures," Coast commented.

Appleyard waved the interruption aside. "It came about largely through a whim of Chance," he resumed, "as all true adventure must. Quite by accident I fell in with one of the crew of that fishing smack, he being well under the influence of liquor; in a way of speaking, he'd looked too long upon the wine when it was red-eye and half wood-alcohol. Craftily simulating a like condition, I pilled him further and succeeded in learning the name of his vessel and the fact that she was expected to sail with the morning tide—together with other details that intrigued me. Then, leaving the sudden wretch to sleep off his disgusting debauch, I caused myself to be conveyed aboard the lugger—I mean schooner—and stowed away in his bunk, trusting to luck to avert discovery until the morning. Unhappily, I, with the rest of the crew, was routed out incontinently by an unmannerly brute with a belaying pin (at all events it felt like a belaying-pin—an instrument with which I am unacquainted save through the literature of the sea) and forced to go on deck to help heave anchor. . . . Or should I say, 'weigh anchor'?"

"I'm not quarrelling with your style," chuckled Coast. "Why not put off polishing your periods until another time?"

"Thank you," said Appleyard gratefully. "To resume: My detection promptly ensued and my presence was dispensed with, a trace unceremoniously, perhaps, but no doubt very properly from the skipper's point of view. With the subsequent phases of this most delectable adventure you are familiar; therefore, I confidently assume your concurrence with my conclusion; which is—here am I. . . . Now," he wound up, inclining his head at an angle, and favoring Coast with a frankly speculative stare, "what are you going to do with me?"

Coast opened his eyes wide, with a lift of his brows. "I don't know that I contemplate doing anything with you, Mr. Applegate."

"It's not yet too late for the amende courtoise," suggested his guest.

"I'll gladly set you ashore—"

"Pardon, but that's precisely what I don't want you to do."

"But—"

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

(Copyright 1910 by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.)

Sept. 10th, 1911.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) Daniel and His Companions; a Temperance Lesson, Dan. 1:8-20.

Golden Text—It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth. Rom. xiv:21.

(1) Verse 8—Who was Daniel, and how did he get to Babylon?

(2) What did Daniel propose for his food?

(3) What are the advantages and disadvantages (1) of a meat diet, (2) of a vegetable diet?

(4) Is there any reason to believe that God originally meant man to be a meat eater?

(5) If meat is necessary for strength, how do you account for the strength of the horse and the elephant, as both are vegetarians?

(6) Is there any reason to think that the craving, or desire for meat is an artificial appetite?

(7) What evidence is there that a purely vegetable diet would increase the health and the longevity of the people?

(8) Verse 9—Did God in some supernatural way cause the prince of the eunuchs to love Daniel, or in any other way than through Daniel's lovable manner?

(9) Does God turn the hearts of people to love or favor good Christians wholly apart from their actual attractions?

(10) Verse 10—Which people are the healthier, those who have abundance of rich food and who eat all they can or those who have plain food and eat only enough to give them sufficient strength for their work?

(11) Verses 11-13—What should be our rule as to the kind and quantity of food we eat?

(12) Which class in the community is generally the healthier, the rich or those respectable people who have to struggle "to make ends meet?"

(13) Take one hundred persons who drink nothing but water and another hundred persons who drink intoxicating liquor and compare their probable condition as to (a) health, (b) wealth, (c) happiness.

(14) Who were Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah?

(15) Verses 14-15. What was the result of the test made upon these three Hebrew young men, in eating a strictly vegetable diet, and drinking nothing stronger than water?

(16) Should this test from experience blind our conscience, and cause us to eat and drink as they did? Why or why not?

(17) Verse 16—What in our day are the chief evils of gluttony, and what are the chief evils of drunkenness?

(18) To what extent would the world be better if the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage could be stopped? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(19) Verses 17-21—To what extent may all men develop their ability by increasing their knowledge?

(20) Why is it not possible for all persons with sufficient study to become first rank artists, orators, poets, and scientists, or to attain to supernatural powers like Daniel and his companions?

(21) Were the learning and wisdom of these four young men acquired, or the gifts of God?

(22) Where do you draw the line as to the possibilities of present spiritual or supernatural powers?

Jack Sheetz is only 16, but when the passenger steamer Lexington was wrecked near Beaufort, S. C. he stuck to the wireless key and sent out calls for help until the revenue cutter, Yamacraw went to the rescue. His father, Henry F. Sheetz, is head of the manufacturing department of the Presbyterian Board of Publication at Philadelphia. He declares himself very proud of Jack who is soon to take up the work of his last year in high school in Philadelphia.

Prized Photographs of Royalty.

Autographed photographs of empresses and queens are among the unusual collection of pictures being made by Julia and Alys Meyer, daughters of the secretary of the navy. The young women lived in Berlin, Vienna and Rome when their father was the American ambassador in those capitals, and their collections then were begun. Large and delicately tinted photographs of the kaiserin and the queen of Italy were presented to the Washington young women by those rulers. The collectors have obtained photographs of almost every queen in Europe, and these are mounted artistically and attract much attention in the summer home of the Meyers in Hamilton, Mass.

Glasses for the Wine.

The custom of setting several glasses for each kind of wine before each guest belongs to the nineteenth century. In the eighteenth century the glasses were dipped, at each new wine, into small earthenware vessels filled with water, which were placed on the table within the reach of all the guests.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, September 8, 1871.

St. George's Picnic.

The picnic of the St. George's Association, which was held on Mr. Haine's grounds yesterday, was attended by about twenty-five of the members, together with their families and friends. A platform for dancing had been erected and that pleasant recreation was indulged in until darkness put a stop to the amusements. Cricket and quoits were introduced and participated in by many members of the company, much to the edification of the spectators. We understand that a cricket club is to be organized in connection with this association.

Greely on Tobacco Raising.

One of our tobacco growers hearing that the renowned agriculturist, Greely, was in town yesterday, sought information of him regarding the raising and harvesting of tobacco, it being new business to him, and he did not feel that he was doing it exactly as he should. Greely told him that chewing tobacco should remain

Success for Immense Sum.

A suit in which a French woman, Mme. Cotton, is the present plaintiff, beats the record of the Jennings case. This lady is the legal heiress of a goldsmith who in 1658 lent the government of Venice 800,000 crowns, the present value of which with interest, is estimated at about $4,000,000. The heir of the original lender was a Frenchman, Jean Thierry, who died before the loan was repaid. There was a lawsuit over his succession, and Louis XIV. claimed the estate, and annexed the French portion of it. The suit was still dragging on at the time of the directory, when Bonaparte forced Venice to repay the loan. Since then France has been the custodian of the Thierry estate. The government has been sued dozens of times, but to no purpose. Now, Mme. Cotton is suing the government of Austria and Italy, as well as that of France, because each in turn has owned Venice.—London Chronicle.

Largest Deryl Ever Found.

March 28, 1910, in a pegmatite vein at Marabunga, a village in Brazil, there was discovered the largest crystal of precious beryl (aquamarine) ever found. It was so transparent that looking down into the crystal through its basal termination it could be seen through from end to end. In color it was greenish blue, absolutely free from included impurities, but traversed by a number of fractures. This crystal was found by a Turk, who mined it in what is known as a primitive mine at a depth of from five to six meters, and only with the greatest difficulty was it transported by canoe to the coast by way of the Jequitinhonha river and then shipped to Bahia, where it is said that he realized $25,000 for it. It is estimated that this crystal would furnish at least 200,000 carats of aquamarines of various sizes.—Mining and Engineering World.

In the ground longer than cigars, as the revenue stamps on the boxes would become loosened from too much exposure to moisture and were liable to get lost, which would injure the flavor of the cigars. Plug tobacco, he thought, would stand the frost better than fine cut, but he would recommend digging that before the ground froze, particularly heavy plug, which grew very large and was liable to expand so much in freezing that it was difficult to handle without pulleys and rollers. He was of the opinion that Havana cigars were better adapted to this climate than the common cigar, but the only difficulty was that they were rather early and were liable to sprout in the cellar. He didn't believe it was profitable to raise anything in this windy country, as much of it would be blown away and lost before the pods were fully ripened. That was all he knew about raising tobacco, but he was always glad to impart information.

Mr. Greely was the guest of Judge Conger during his brief visit to this city. He left for Oshkosh at four o'clock this morning.

French Academicians.

A French statistician has been looking at the records of members of the Academie Francaise as family men. Of the forty "immortals" it appears that the great majority are married, but no fewer than fourteen are childless. Among those who have the largest families are M. Henri Poincare, the scientist, who is the father of three daughters and a son, and M. Jean Richerand, the poet and dramatist, who has been twice married and has four sons. M. Rene Bazin has also several children, but the families of the other academicians who have families at all do not number more than one or two. M. Anatole France is among the half dozen members who are bachelors.

A Narcotic Cartridge.

Karl Burgsmuller, of Krefeld, Germany, has been granted a patent for a means for temporarily narcotizing animals, in which a cartridge filled with a mixture composed of substances containing opium in an immediately gasifiable form and of easily inflammable substances to accelerate the gasification, is combined with a small quantity of an explosive agent between the mixture and an explosive cap with which the cartridge is provided.

ADVERTISERS—The Hutchinson Daily News, with a guaranteed average circulation of 3,293 for the month of April, 1911, affords the best advertising medium in Hutchinson Valley (the Garden Spot of the World). Rate 1 cent per word, per insertion, cash with the order. News, Hutchinson, Kansas.

IF YOU ARE interested in real estate in the Northwest, you will do well to place an ad in the Want Column of the Aberdeen Daily News, Aberdeen, S. D., the best advertising medium in this territory. Read every day by more than 25,000 people. Rate 10 per word first insertion; special rate for the week or month. Write for sample copy. 46-11

IF IT IS A FAIRM you want to sell or trade or real estate you want to get action on, there is but one paper in the southwestern part of Nebraska that reaches the people you want to do business with, and that is the Hastings (Neb.) Tribune, daily and weekly. 46-11

FAIRM FOR SALE—Southwestern Iowa is one of the richest agricultural districts in the world, and the Daily Nonpareil is practically the only daily paper read in this territory. It is issued morning, evening and Sunday, and with its 17,000 circulation covers the field like a blanket. If you want results from your advertisement, try it. One cent a word for the first insertion, and one-half cent a word for each subsequent insertion. Classified in display, 25c an inch. The Daily Nonpareil, Council Bluffs, Iowa. 46-11

HERALD, Grand Forks, N. D., circulation 10,200. Talk to the people in prosperous North Dakota through the columns of The Grand Forks Herald, read every day by 30,000, in 150 towns and rural routes in the northern half of the state. Classified ads for sale, help wanted, exchanges, real estate, etc., for 1/2 cent a word each insertion. Send stamps to The Herald, Grand Forks, N. D. 46-11

FIND LAND BUYERS through advertising in the Daily Journal-World, Lawrence, Kansas. The farm lands about Lawrence are the finest in Kansas and therefore are high priced. Young farmers are looking for cheap farms. The Daily Journal-World has a sworn circulation of 5,500, about half of which is in the country and carries a full page of Want Ads. Rates, 1c per word 1 time, 3/4c per word for one week. The World Company, Lawrence, Kansas. 68-11

North Dakota offers unlimited opportunities for business to classified advertisers. The recognized advertising medium is the Fargo Daily and Sunday Courier-News, the only seven day paper in the state and the paper which carries the largest amount of classified advertising. The Courier-News covers North Dakota like a blanket; reaching all parts of the state the day of publication; it is the paper to use in order to get results. Rates, one cent per word first insertion; one-half cent per word succeeding insertions; fifty cents per line per month. Address The Courier-News, Fargo, N. D. 20-11

ADVERTISERS—The great state of three things must be considered—circulation, class of readers and price. The Reporter gives you an advertiser measure of service for less money than any other newspaper in Northern Iowa. The Reporter is read by 30,000 people every issue. Advertising rates one-half cent a word each insertion. Cash with order. Reporter, Waterloo, Ia. 46-11
